Raptivity Wins “Best Learning Innovation Technology” Platinum Award at LearnX 2011

Training Australia Magazine, an independent training resource magazine for individuals and enterprises, announced the winners of its prestigious awards program, called the 2011 LearnX E-learning & Training Awards. Raptivity, the leading rapid interactivity building tool from Harbinger Knowledge Products, has won a platinum award in ‘Best Learning Innovation Technology’ category and two Gold awards in ‘Best Simulation Solution’ and ‘Best Assessment Tool’ categories respectively. The product has won the Gold award in the ‘Best Simulation Solution’ Award category third year in a row.

LearnX Asia Pacific E-Learning & Training Awards program is described as Asia Pacific's first and only independent awards program for the region's learning and development industries. This award program honors workforce learning and supporting technologies including innovative learning initiatives used in learning that have been voted by the users of these technologies to be the best in class.

“We are delighted to have won the 2011 LearnX Awards in three categories” said Vikas Joshi, Chairman and Managing Director of Harbinger Group. “Being voted so highly by our customers reinforces our product design values, which is to empower course designers with the ability to create highly interactive eLearning experiences affordably and easily. We continue our innovation in rapid interactivity technology, and these awards are a testament to the immense value our users see in our technology”, he added.

The product is based on Harbinger’s patented technology and open architecture that supports various tools and best practices in instructional design. It provides a pre-built library of rapidly-customizable interaction models in Flash and HTML5. The Flash content published by Raptivity is a single file, which can also be viewed across various mobile devices that support Flash. The HTML5 interactions can be published on Apple’s iPhones and iPads.

“Every day we hear how Raptivity is changing the way organizations train their employees, students, and partners, and these awards clearly point to Raptivity’s impact on e-learning. We thank all our Raptivity users for expressing their satisfaction through their votes” said Seema Chaudhary, president of Harbinger Knowledge Products.
